RUSHDIE DEMO'S BREAK THE LAW!

• Making threats to kill is an offence that carries a 10 year prison sentence.

But the Police are afraid to Act

by Martin Wingfield and Steve Brady

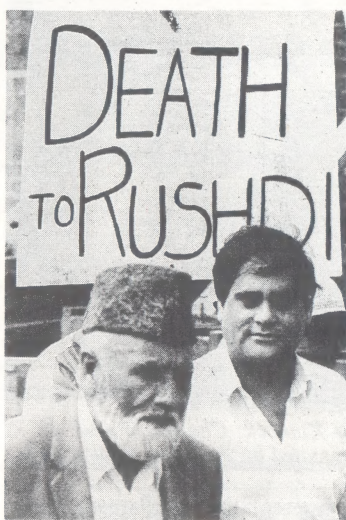

EVERY SINGLE MUSLIM march against Salman Rushdie that has taken place in Britain this year has broken the law - and that's official - according to a letter from the Home Office to the National Front. The Government Department responsible for policing and enforcing the law makes it crystal clear that tens of thousands of Asians have been repeatedly committing serious criminal offences on the streets of Britain.

Yet what has been done about it? Absolutely nothing. The Government passes the buck to the Police and the Police are petrified to implement the law for fear it would lead to major disorders. What a state of affairs. A lawless, alien minority in Britain holding the country to ransom.

There are no grey areas in this case. Everything is clear in black and white. Moslem leaders up and down the country have called for the death of Salman Rushdie. The law states:-

Under Section 4 of the Offences Against The Person Act 1861, it is an offence to solicit, encourage, persuade or propose to any person to murder another.

The maximum penalty for this offence is life imprisonment, no light matter, so why has action

• There is no doubt about the views being expressed by this protestor.

not been taken against the Muslim leaders? Under Common Law it is also:-

An Offence to solicit or incite another to commit any crime, whether the incitement is successful or not.

What could be clearer than that.

In every town with a large Muslim population there have been marches against Salman Rushdie. Local newspapers have been full of photographs of demonstrators carrying placards calling for the death of Salman Rushdie. Effigies of Rushdie have been burned and mutilated. The law states:-

It is an offence under Section 16 of the Offences Against The Person Act 1861 to make threats to kill. This offence requires an intention that the recipient of the threats should fear that they will be carried out.

This offence carries a 10 year prison sentence, again no light matter, so why has no action been taken against the law breakers? Is there any doubt that Salman Rushdie is living in fear?

In this country the Law of the Land is supposed to apply equally to all without fear or favour. It doesn't. The law is being applied with fear of Muslim mobs and for currying favour to the Asian vote.

This shocking state of affairs has come about in our country because successive Governments have allowed millions of immigrants to settle in Britain without ever considering the consequences.

For twenty years the National Front has told the British people what the consequences would be and now we are being proved right. The only way to win back Britain for the British people is to send the immigrants back to their own countries.

• Police apply the law in fear of Muslim mobs.

Thank you for your letter of 27 May to the Home Secretary about incitement to murder the author Salman Rushdie. I have been asked to reply.

You will understand that I am unable to comment on particular cases but I hope the following general remarks are helpful.

It is of course for the courts to say whether or not an offence has been committed in any particular case, but it is an offence under Section 16 of the Offences Against The Person Act 1861 to make threats to kill. This offence requires an intention that the recipient of the threats should fear that they will be carried out, and is punishable on indictment by a maximum of 10 years' imprisonment. It is also an offence under Section 4 of this Act to solicit, encourage, persuade or propose to any person to murder another, the maximum penalty is life imprisonment, and at common law it is an offence to solicit or incite another to commit any crime (whether the incitement is successful or not).

The responsibility for the investigation of alleged offences falls to the Chief Officer of Police concerned. The decision whether to institute criminal proceedings is for the police and the Crown Prosecution Service. This will depend on the facts in each case. Ministers have no powers whatsoever to supervise or direct the police and Crown Prosecution Service in these matters.

Yours sincerely

H. Forbes

Protection Costs!

IT'S THE British taxpayer that foots the bill for the policing of law-breaking Muslim marches on our streets. It's also the British taxpayer who is footing the bill for keeping author Salman Rushdie protected.

It costs £1,000 a day for Special Branch men to guard him round the clock all being paid out of our hard-earned money.

CHRISTIAN: A WORD OFFENSIVE TO OUR ETHNIC MINORITIES

ROBERT RUNCIE, the Archbishop of Canterbury, is a traitor to Christian beliefs.

He leapt into action to attack the BBC over their showing of "Banquet of Blasphemers" because it might offend Islam and therefore the two million Muslims living in Britain, but he is doing nothing to stop the erosion of Christian beliefs.

• Runcie: Failing his followers.

The latest pro-Islam dictat from Britain's ethnic-groveling local councils comes from Slough in Berkshire. There the equal opportunities sub-committee headed by Labour councillor Sue Vasey has demanded a ban on the word Christian from all council property and literature because it "might offend the feelings of the town's 25% ethnic population".

And it doesn't only extend to Christian in a religious sense. All council forms are to be changed so that Christian Names is replaced by Forenames.

The attack on Britain's Christian heritage is bad enough but what is worse is that next May Slough's White voters, like sheep, will troop to the polls and elect ethnic-grovelers like Sue Vasey to another term of office.

And from Robert Runcie? Not a word of complaint

THE RUBBISH DUMP OF BRITAIN

MANCHESTER IS the rubbish dump of Britain according to a report published by the Greater Manchester Hazards Centre.

The report reveals that during 1988, half of the hazardous waste coming into Britain came to Greater Manchester for treatment and disposal and that the region is rapidly running out of holes in the ground in which to dump the waste.

But the most damning indictment of the report is that because so much foreign waste is coming into the area the local authority is having to export its waste to neighbouring counties to be disposed of.

People's health and welfare, and the well-being of the environment are being threatened by a waste disposal industry that is running out of control. The FLAG believes that the whole waste-disposal industry in Britain should be nationalised and that there should be a total ban on foreign waste coming into Britain.

Such Arrogant Expressions: Is this The Shape of Things to Come?

SIR RHODES BOYSON, MP for Brent North, slips off his shoes and approaches Pandit Morari Babu bowing as he goes. Has there ever been such an example of the demise of our country. One of our elected representatives groveling to an Asian leader of an Asian religion in front of an Asian crowd all taking place on British soil.

The Pandit arrived, driven in a white Mercedes, and lounged on a pink silk sofa while various representatives grovelled before him. Most nauseating of these was Brent Council's Labour leader, Dorman Long, who announced the building of a Hindu temple in Wembley. Why? Because it's a West Indian ordering the building of an Asian temple on British soil.

THE LIARS OF THE LABOUR PARTY

THE HYPOCRISY OF Neil Kinnock knows no bounds. He's like a captain of a ship in a race and he will throw anything or anyone overboard in an effort to go faster if it will help him gain victory.

The prize of this race is, of course, to become Prime Minister, and Kinnock doesn't mind what he does to get to Downing Street.

Overnight he changed Labour's Defence policy because he was told that it wasn't popular with the British people. He expects the British people to accept that after his life-long commitment to a non-nuclear defence policy he has suddenly changed his mind.

He has stabbed the Trade Unions in the back. After a lifetime of milking them for every penny they had, he now refuses to act on their behalf because the opinion polls tell him standing up for workers rights does not win votes.

But Kinnock's most blatant turn around came last month when after years of condemning Britain's first past the post electoral system as unfair, he has suddenly decided that it's O.K. for Labour because the opinion polls tell him that Labour can win by that voting system.

40 out of 46 resolutions for this year's Labour Party Annual Conference on constitutional issues submitted by the Trade Unions and local constituency parties call for Labour to adopt proportional representation, but the leadership has decided to ignore them all.

George Foulkes, from the Labour Front Bench said to change the system "would be naive in the extreme when it was within Labour's grasp to beat the Tories under the present system".

So The Labour Party are no longer concerned with the fairness of the voting system, they just want to win. So all their statements over the last 10 years about proportional representation and the need for a truly representative parliament have been lies.

• Kinnock: Changes his hat as dictated by the latest opinion poll.

What a choice for the British people at the next election. Do they vote for the liars of the Labour Party or the liars of the Tory Party?

HOLE IN THE SHOE INDUSTRY

BREVITT'S OF Northampton, a ladies shoe makers, is closing its shoe factory with the loss of 85 jobs because sales have been cut by cheap foreign shoe importers.

Northampton used to be the centre of the British Shoe Industry, even the local football team is nicknamed The Cobblers. But now that shoe industry is dead. Butchered by foreign shoe imports allowed to flood into this country by a Tory Government that has done more to destroy British Industry than Hitler's bombers could ever have done.

Maybe the football team should change its name to The Dole Queuers.

BANKING FOLLY

LAST MONTH the Midland Bank announced that it would have to write-off debts of £531 million after loans to Third World countries had not been repaid.

There would be no such bad debts with a National Front who would nationalise the banks. This would ensure that the creation and supply of money and credit would be the exclusive preserve of the Government.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS BEGIN AT HOME

A YOUNG mother still lives in fear after police failed to find her common-law husband.

Elizabeth Rutherford had previously been given a protection order by a Manchester Court to prevent her being molested or assaulted by her husband, but when he broke that order and she returned to court, the husband failed to turn up and police investigations could find no trace of him.

• Gooljary: Missing councillor.

This case is of interest for three reasons.

1. The husband is an Asian, Yousouf Gooljary.
2. He is Labour Councillor for Barlow Moor in Manchester.
3. He is deputy chairman of Manchester City council's women's rights committee and sits on the county's police authority.

The FLAG's verdict:

More fool Elizabeth Rutherford for shacking up with someone of a different race.

More fool the voters of Barlow Moor for electing an Asian to represent them.

More fool Manchester Council for electing a wife-beater to head their women's rights committee.

Let's hope everyone learns from this sorry affair.

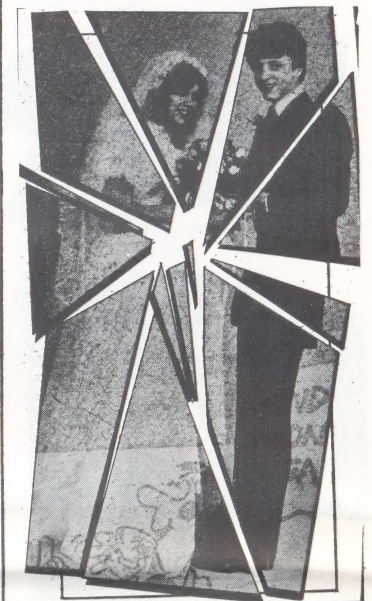

Cornish Coast Reveals Warming Waters

THE FIRST evidence of the warming of the atmosphere by pollution from industrial gases could be the intrusions of warm-water fish species and other marine life into British waters.

Over the last few years, off the coast of Devon and Cornwall, species such as the Red Mullet, the Marbled Electric Eel and the Triggerfish have been caught and Britain's most eminent marine biologist, Professor Alan Southward, believes this is because of the Greenhouse Effect.

Whether the warming of Britain's seas is caused by damage to the Ozone Layer or just a natural cyclical fluctuation we will probably never know. The Tory Government cut funding to the programme monitoring the changes 18 months ago.

Isn't that typical of the Tories 'Head in the Sand' attitude to the environment.

FAMILY LIFE IS UNDER ATTACK

FAMILY LIFE in Britain has been under attack since the Swinging Sixties. On the one hand by promiscuity, lack of moral direction and promotion of homosexuality and on the other by unemployment, falling educational standards in our schools and the growing debt burden from easy credit.

The results on this onslaught is that by 1995 the number of single-parent families will increase by five times the rate of two-parent households, according to a report, from the Henley Centre, into family life.

The family is the foundation stone on which a Nationalist Britain will be built. The promotion of policies to protect and re-establish the family unit in Britain must be at the forefront of the National Front's effort to win back Britain for the British people.

RAY OF HOPE

A ray of hope came from a survey into discipline in the home. 91% of parents believed it was their right to choose the appropriate form of discipline for their own children with the same percentage believing smacking an appropriate form of punishment.

Discipline in the home, from an early age, sets the trend for later years. Lack of discipline within the family is a direct threat to the success of that family unit.

LEAGUE TABLES

LEEDS NATIONAL Front drew further in front in the FLAG Sales League for August, upping their order by 25% for the start of the football season.

Sales of the paper again broke records last month and the print run has been increased for the fourth month running. Well done to Cambridge for getting into the league for the first time and to Newcastle for their welcome return.

Administration Report with Tina Wingfield

• Tina Wingfield: Looking after the administration of the NF.

THE BUILDING Fund got off to slow but steady start. £265 raised in the first month. Many thanks to Mr. D. Davies from Cornwall for his very generous £100 donation and also to Bob Jones of Birmingham and Peter Cox, East London for their contributions of £50 each.

It's been a real begging bowl year for the National Front, firstly for the Euro-Elections, then the Vauxhall by-election and now the building fund. I can only stress that the NF is funded solely by you the members, without you we cease to exist. On that note I would like to thank those Friends of the Front whose contribution every month is the very life-breath of the Party.

If you would like to become a Friend of the Front, contributing £5.00 a month to the National Front, please send your first payment to P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG, and we will send you your payment card and the latest Friends of the Front Bulletin.

Memberships are still coming in at an incredible rate for August. In my five years involvement with NF Administration I have never known anything like it. In fact we have run out of membership cards and have had to have a re-print. Proof that our most optimistic forecasts on memberships, made at the beginning of the year, have been realised.

A little bit of excitement this month with the visit of Bob Hoy an American journalist to the office. He spent two weeks with us making a video on the National Front to promote the party with the large British population in the States. All the aspects of Administration side of the National Front was captured on film as well as the production of The FLAG. Bob also got some exciting footage on our anti-IRA demos, and an excellent speech by NF chairman, Ian Anderson, at the August Brighton Branch meeting.

On the subject of videos, we hope to have Carolyn Taylor's, appearance on Scottish Television available soon. She was an excellent ambassador for the NF when faced by Tory and Labour councillors.

Finally to the person who keeps sending excreta through the post - the roses in the front garden are the best ever this year, thanks to you.

FRONT JOINS CAMPAIGN IN MERIDEN

by Dean O'Brien

IN AUGUST Coventry & Warwickshire NF launched a recruitment drive in Meriden, just outside Coventry.

Local residents had organised a petition against a proposed Indian restaurant and they enlisted the help of the National Front for their campaign.

Within 24 hours, press releases had been sent to all the leading papers in the area, and by the following lunchtime the petition and the NF were on the front page of The Coventry Evening Telegraph.

Tory MP for Meriden, Iain Mills, attacked the NF's involvement and all the publicity forced some local residents to back track claiming that the petition was not racially-motivated. But one petition-signer made no bones about the issue.

"It's not the restaurant we are worried about, it's what comes after", he said, "Once a couple of families move in they will want a bloody temple built. Once that happens you can say goodbye to Meriden as it is now".

Well over 1,000 leaflets have been distributed in Meriden with the leaflets receiving an excellent response.

• Evening Patrol: NF Leafletters in Meriden

• National Front Chairman Ian Anderson

BUSY MONTH FOR NF CHAIRMAN

LIFE AT the top is hectic for National Front chairman, Ian Anderson.

During August he spoke at branch meetings in Leeds, Birmingham, Brighton and East London.

Ian says that morale at the meetings is as high as he has known for some time, with turnouts and collections making a nonsense of the norm that August is a quiet month in politics.

At Birmingham, Ian reports that the collection and literature sales at the meeting raised more than £200.

New Address

BECKENHAM NATIONAL Front now have their own postal address. They can be contacted by writing to The Secretary, P.O.Box 279, Beckenham, Kent BR3 4ZT.

The local committee, under the guidance of Branch Organiser, Terry Blackham, have produced their second Beckenham Patriot leaflet, concentrating on local issues and promoting the local branch.

YORK NF

REGULAR PAPERSALES are now being held every Saturday in York.

Local organiser, Kester Aspdon, reports that the sales are held either in the town centre, or at Bootham Crescent, the home of York City F.C.

The local SWP who also sell in the town centre have been demoralised to see the NF outselling them by a ratio of 10 papers to one.

Kester would like to thank Leeds National Front for their help in getting his group off the ground.

EXETER NF

SATURDAY 19th August, saw the start of the new English football season. At St.James Park, home of Exeter City FC, local NF activists were out in force to sell copies of The FLAG, to supporters going into the match against Doncaster Rovers. A rag-bag bunch of Labour Party misfits had threatened to stop the NF selling papers, by turning up to every match at Exeter and handing out anti NF leaflets. They had hoped to gain the support of the supporters, club and Police in, "driving the NF out".

However come 2.30pm, there was no sign at all of the opposition. NF paper sellers did a very brisk trade and by 3 o'clock over 50 copies of The FLAG had been sold. Our members then proceeded into the ground to watch a very enjoyable match, which Exeter City won 1-0.

The FLAG wishes Exeter City all the best for the season in their bid, to gain promotion to Division 3.

Excellent Local Magazines

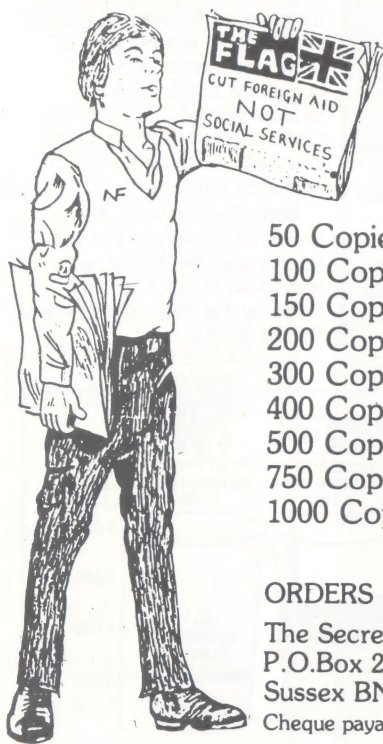

THERE ARE two excellent monthly newsletters published by branches.

Frontline is a hard-hitting, interesting and amusing, 12-page bulletin full of local activities produced by Leeds National Front. It is available by sending a cheque/P.O. for 50p to The Secretary, P.O.Box 12, Morley, W. Yorkshire LS27 9QB.

New Britain is produced by Bristol National Front, the larger format contains more in-depth articles. The newsletter is an excellent advert for one of the NF's newer units. It is available by sending a cheque/P.O. for 50p to The Secretary, P.O.Box 447, Bristol, BS99 1SD.

The Thunderer is the bulletin of the National Front Christian Fellowship. Full of fire and brimstone it reflects the viewpoint of the NF's continually growing practising Christian membership. It is available by sending a cheque/P.O. for 50p to The Secretary, 51, Enys Road, Eastbourne, East Sussex.

NF Oppose Mosque

"WE WANT our temple and nothing is going to stop us", said the secretary to Chesham's Mosque Committee to the Bucks Examiner after he had been told that local NF members had joined the campaign against the proposed building of a mosque in Bellingdon Road, Chesham.

In a statement to the paper the NF said "The mosque is something the local Asian community feels it needs but the rest of Chesham could do without".

The statement also expressed a hope that the Chiltern planners would throw out the planning application for the new mosque.

* If planning applications are submitted for a mosque in your area make sure you contact your local National Front. They will be able to organise an effective campaign against it.

Harwood in Wordsworth Country

THE GUEST speaker at the August Branch meeting of Workington National Front was John Harwood, Newcastle's Branch organiser, who addressed what Workington Chairman, Ian Leece, described as one of the most successful meetings the branch has ever had.

John spoke on the theme of activism, stressing the importance of being seen on the streets paperselling.

He also contrasted the inner city ghettos with the Cumbrian towns by saying, "This is Wordsworth country, it is beautiful, it is yours, it is worth defending".

There was lively audience participation after the speech with the tightly knit members and supporters pledging to do their utmost for the Nationalist cause. To round off the day nicely, the manager of the club where the meeting was held, upon discovering who had booked the room, announced that both he and his barman were staunch Ulster Loyalists and that the NF were welcome anytime.

JUST REWARD FOR LOYAL SERVICE

BRITISH SERVICEMEN have a long tradition of dedicated service to the nation. The National Front believes that more must be done both for individual servicemen and to organise the services to ensure that they operate in defence of Britain and British interests alone.

The National Front says that:-

THE IRA MUST BE CRUSHED

This Marxist terror group must be rooted out and destroyed. The Army must be given the political support to do the job.

NO AMALGAMATION OF REGIMENTS

The British Army regimental system is the envy of many armies around the world. It is at the very core of the Army's success and the creation of more 'large' regiments will only damage this.

NAVY TASK FORCES MUST BE DEFENDED

They must be properly protected against missile, submarine and air attacks. The lessons learned in the Falklands War are fading from memory and cost cutting continues. Navy personnel must not be put at risk because of money.

THE NAVY IS A VITAL DEFENCE

The Royal Navy is still vital to the defence of an island like Britain. It must have enough surface ships and submarines to properly defend British shores and shipping routes.

MORE RECREATIONAL FACILITIES

Service wives face long periods of separation with unaccompanied tours, field exercises, and particularly in the case of the Navy, long sea patrols. More money must be spent on recreational facilities for military wives.

THE RAF IS A VITAL DEFENCE

The RAF must have the planes it needs to carry out the air defence of the UK. This job should be the task of the RAF Strike Command alone.

OUR PILOTS MUST HAVE PROPER TRAINING

While remembering the needs of the environment, pilots need to have sufficient training in low-level supersonic flying. Areas must be set aside where this can be done safely.

CIVILIAN RESETTLEMENT SHOULD BE EASY

More money should be invested in settling service personnel in civilian life. After loyal service to the nation British Servicemen should have more done for them to help them make the adjustment to civilian life.

BRITISH ARMS FOR BRITISH SOLDIERS

British forces must be equipped with British weapons made in British factories by British workers.

OUR OWN NUCLEAR DETERRENT

American nuclear weapons should be removed from British soil. However, in the event of a future nuclear war, Britain must possess adequate nuclear weapons, made in Britain and under British control.

TRAINING MUST BE TOUGH AND FAIR

Tough and vigorous training is necessary to weed out those not suitable for military life and to give servicemen the preparation for active service. The very small minority of instructors who abuse their positions to bully recruits must be rooted out, as they bring the forces into disrepute.

BRITAIN MUST WITHDRAW FROM NATO

Britain should withdraw from NATO. British forces must be under British common and fight only in defence of Britain and British interests.

Since the end of World War Two, British servicemen have been involved in a number of vicious and bloody conflicts. Some they have won outright. In others they have performed a difficult task in conditions which would have led the forces of other nations to have fallen to pieces.

The National Front says the nation should reward the loyal service of its armed forces by paying servicemen the wages that reflect the danger of the jobs they do.

Jake's View

COMEDY OF ERRORS

NORFOLK POLICE have been made to look idiots by their superiors.

Publicity-craving Police Chiefs organised a reconstruction of a jewel shop robbery in Norwich involving two Blacks. Unfortunately with no black policemen to take part in the reconstruction two White officers had to 'black up'.

PURE FARCE

The result was pure farce which brought laughs of derision from the public and gave Britain's Race Relations lobby an opportunity to attack the Police for mentioning Black crime.

Following the reconstruction two African students were jumped on from behind and handcuffed by officers hunting the robbers. They were later released with an official apology from Norfolk Police. Then Norfolk Police had to apologise again to the Black community as a whole for "reinforcing the assumption that all Black people look alike."

REAL POINT

The original robbery is all but forgotten in the furore that followed the reconstruction and the real point of publicising the robbery, the spread of Black crime away from inner city areas to semi-rural areas, has been completely missed.

• Golliwogs or Police?

OUR POLICE SHOULD BUY BRITISH

LEICESTERSHIRE POLICE are replacing their fleet of Range Rovers with the Japanese Isuzu Troopers.

Such action from a Police Force is a disgrace when the British car industry is battling for survival.

The welfare and future of Britain's car workers shouldn't depend on the flights of fancy of Britain's police force or the British motorist for that matter.

The National Front says that all cars bought in Britain should be made in Britain in British factories by British workers.

Tories Bow to Big Business

by Steve Brady

AS WAS ENTIRELY predictable, the Tory Government showed where its true loyalties lie in the beer monopolies row. As on so many issues, faced with a choice between the millions of ordinary British voters whose interests it claims to uphold and the millions of big business pounds whose interests uphold it, the Tory Party chose its paymasters over the public and cravenly grovelled to the big brewers beer money which bankrolls their party.

This was despite the fact that the public interest was clear. In March, the Monopolies and Mergers Commission, after two and a half years work, handed Tory Trade Secretary Lord Young a 500-page report exposing the scandalous state of Britain's beer industry. It confirmed officially what ale-suppers have known for years - half a dozen giant combines dominate Britain's beer market, and use what the MMC called their "complex monopoly" to ram inferior produce, notably overpriced chemical fizz-water "lager", down the public's throat at exorbitant prices.

The big brewers not only brew over 80% of the beer drunk in Britain, they own over 75% of the pubs, using their "tied-house" system to, as the MMC put it, "restrict competition at all levels". Of the "Big Six", Bass own 7102 pubs, Allied-Lyons 6681, Whitbread 6255, Grand Metropolitan 5399, Courage (owned by the Australian-based Elders-IXL multinational) 5000 and Scottish and Newcastle 2300. On top of that, big regional combines like Greenall Whitley with 1700 pubs enjoy local monopolies. As a result of thirty years of mergers, 360 breweries in 1960 are down to a third of that today. Of around 70,000 British pubs, only 5,000 are genuine free houses, offering a real choice of decent beer, according to the Campaign for Real Ale.

The Monopolies Commission ended their review of the state of play with the warning that if nothing was done "a very small number of brewers would increasingly dominate the supply of beer in the United Kingdom".

The Commission called for drastic action to save the British pint. The Big Six should be allowed to keep only 2000 pubs each. Within three years 22,000 pubs would be sold by the monopolists to small firms and landlords. Remaining pub tenants should be free to stock "guest beers" from other breweries and to buy wines, spirits, ciders, low alcohol drinks etc. where they liked. "Loan ties" whereby the Big Six offer free houses cheap loans in return for selling their overpriced rubbish should be banned. The result, the Monopolies Commission promised and consumer groups agreed, would be to "increase competition in brewing, wholesaling and retailing, encourage new entry, reduce prices and widen consumer choice". In short, more, better and cheaper beers!

So convincing was the Commission's case that Trade Secretary Lord Young was convinced: he at once said he was "minded to implement" the recommendations.

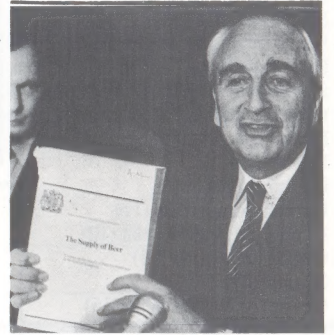

Immediately his paymasters, the Big Six "beverage" lobby that massively funds the Tory Party, took steps to whip him into line. By early July, 14 senior Tory backbenchers, including 10 members of the Executive of the key 1922 Committee, issued an appeal from their bunker in the brewers' pockets to Thatcher herself to squash the Monopolies Commission Report and save their bosses' monopoly.

Even the climb-down concept of allowing the Big Six to keep all their pubs but not run some of them directly was denounced as "the most appalling and unwarranted interference in the market place" offending "the Conservative principle of owning private property and operating a business from such a property". It also offended the Conservative principle of making the country safe for the profits of those who give lots of money to the Conservative Party!

Meanwhile the Big Six spent £5 million on a massive advertising campaign against the proposals, based simply on a pack of deliberate lies. The spectre of ancient village pubs closing down if they were taken from under the loving wings of the beer tycoons was raised, although a Department of Trade and Industry spokesman rightly said "The nonsensical thing about the campaign was that this kind of pub would be the very last kind of premises to close". As an example of the ludicrous lies with which the Big Six tried to panic the public back into their clutches, one advertisement tried to suggest that London Pub of the Year The Albert, in Victoria Street (marched past by the NF every year at Remembrance Day), was under threat from the proposals, even though it is one of the most profitable pubs in London and would survive virtually any Government measures short of a total ban on beer.

They also raised the spectre of their breweries falling into foreign hands, although under the present system Courage's already has and US giant Anheuser-Busch (Brewers of Budweiser) look likely to buy a Big Six brewery in the next couple of years anyway.

• Bottle Job: Lord Young.

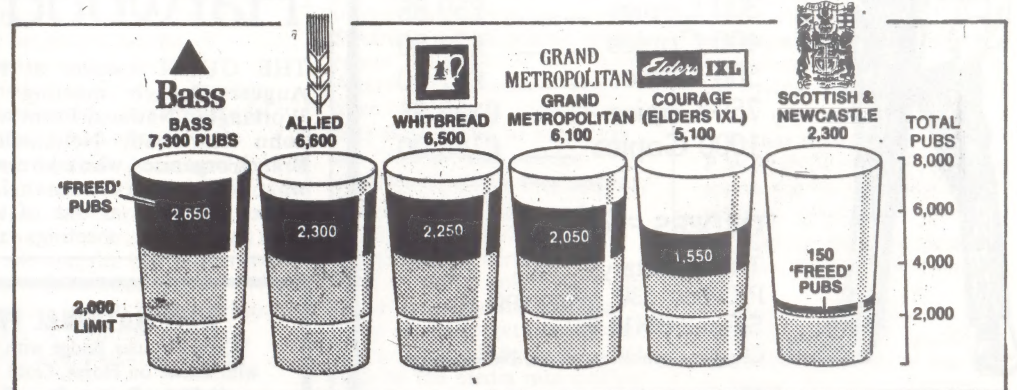

The combination of bribery and lies proved as persuasive to the Tory mind as ever, and on July 10th a chastened Lord Young bowed before his master's voice and announced an emasculated cop-out, tinkering with the beer monopoly in Britain.

The Big Six are not to lose a single pub. Instead of having to sell off 22,000 pubs, they are to allow 11,000 of their pubs to buy beer on the open market whilst continuing to enjoy the profits made thereby. Loan ties, which effectively bind many supposedly "free" houses to big brewers, are to stay. Whilst pub tenants are to be given greater legal security - at present the Big Six can turf them out on the street virtually at a moment's notice - this of course doesn't help pub managers, who are simply employees liable to the sack like any other.

The Consumers' Association rightly denounced this "disappointing compromise". "The big brewers have got off lightly and the regional brewers have got off scot free" a spokesman said. "The Trade Secretary has not broken up the brewers' stranglehold or tackled the problem of local monopolies". Meanwhile the prices of the Big Six breweries' shares shot up on the Stock Market and Big Six brewers Whitbread and Allied triumphantly put 10p a pint on the price of their beers, showing their contempt for the British public.

Yet again the Tory Party showed itself in its true light - a bunch of unprincipled gangsters whose policies are for sale to the highest bidder regardless of the public interest. In effect, half a dozen big companies simply paid the British Government to change its mind in the interest of their own profits. It's the sort of thing you expect in some benighted Black African banana republic. This is what Government by Greed under Thatcher has reduced British democracy to.

Only the National Front, beholden to nobody but the interests of the British people who alone finance us, will stand up for you - the ordinary British people.

• RIGHT: A young National Front member is led away by Police, his only crime was to voice his disapproval of the IRA.

POLICE PROTECT THE IRA!

No Opposition Tolerated

Martin Wingfield, Deputy Chairman of the National Front reports on two IRA marches in North London on Saturday 5th and 12th of August.

Two black days for Britain as the butchers of British soldiers and civilians swaggered on the streets of our capital protected by a police force under strict Government orders to stifle any opposition to these traitors.

I SAT IN the back of the police van with another NF member from Worthing. The van was parked by the side of the road to make way for an unruly mob of IRA supporters to march past. A young policeman sat with us, shaking his bowed head as the chant of 'IRA, IRA', reverberating around the van. A police sergeant in the front glared through a side window at the marchers "I never knew there were so many Black Irishmen" - he spat the words out.

When the marchers had passed my colleague and I were driven to Kings Cross police station where after 6 and a half hours in a cell, I was charged under Section 5 of the Public Order, 'Acting in a manner that might offend other people'.

On Saturday 5th August more than 100 NF members tried to oppose an IRA march through North London. Having met up at Baker Street, in small groups they made their way to a pub by the route of the march. The pub, a popular venue for the local Irish community, was empty with its regulars on the march.

As the march approached, the NF contingent gathered on the pavements behind the NF's 'Stand by Ulster' banner, shouting our opposition to the IRA murderers. Hardly had the first chant of 'IRA Scum off our Streets' gone up when Police swooped from all directions.

They hemmed us in with Police vans and proceeded to arrest anyone who moved. It was the worst abuse of civil liberties seen on the streets of Britain. Our banner was ripped down and those holding it were arrested. NF Chairman, Ian Anderson was frog-marched to a Police Van, later to be charged with obstruction.

I was standing holding a placard demanding 'Hang IRA Bombers', that was enough for me to be pounced on by two officers and dragged off to a van.

More than 40 people, mostly NF members, were arrested that day for opposing the murderers of the IRA and face fines of up to £500 for saying what 99% of the British people think.

The only comfort for us was that the rank and file policeman was as disgusted with the orders of their superiors as we were.

Determined, to avoid arrests the following week the NF negotiated for a static counter-demonstration with the police. Everything was agreed, and the • Police swoop on the NF protestors from all directions.

• The National Front's 'Stand By Ulster' banner is removed by Police.

Chief Inspector expressed his relief that the NF had been in contact so that the events of the previous Saturday could be avoided.

One hour after the arrangements had been made a Superintendent telephoned the NF office and informed NF Chairman, Ian Anderson, that a counter-demonstration would not be allowed and that if any NF member or supporter was seen in the area he would be arrested. He made it clear that no opposition to the IRA march would be allowed.

IRA BOMBED WITH LEAFLETS

ON SATURDAY 12th August National Front members "bombed" IRA marchers with 2,000 'Smash the IRA' leaflets from a railway bridge over the route of the march.

Labour MP, Ken Livingstone, at the front of the march was swamped in the leaflets which he frantically tried to catch and tear up.

While the march was going on National Front members picketed the Aer Lingus offices in Bond Street, London, handing out leaflets asking people not to take their holidays in a country that gives refuge to IRA murderers.

EDITORIAL No.34. September 1989

We Have Our Job To Do - They Have Theirs

Not At Any Cost!

I was disappointed that there was no mention of the Leuchter Report in the July issue of 'The FLAG'; surely the publication that further exposes fundamental flaws in the alleged murder of six millions Jews by the Nazis is newsworthy.

The Leuchter Report is not some pro-Nazi whitewash it is just a scrupulous forensic examination of the alleged gas chambers at Auschwitz revealing that what are accepted as gas chambers today provide no scientific evidence to that fact.

I'm well aware of your editorial policy in 'The FLAG' to

A LETTER RECEIVED at The FLAG's office last month must be discussed. It was from Michael Hardcastle, and was published in last month's issue. It was concerning 'The Leuchter Report' and The FLAG's lack of coverage of the book when it was published.

The Leuchter Report reveals the findings of a scientist of that name after a forensic examination of the alleged gas chambers at Auschwitz. His conclusion is that there is no scientific evidence to prove that exterminations took place there.

FROM THE ROOFTOPS

Mr Hardcastle argued that if respected British historian, David Irving, could put his reputation on the line, in supporting The Leuchter Report a Nationalist newspaper that has always taken a sceptical line on the 'Holocaust' should be singing its praises from the rooftops. Mr. Hardcastle believed it should have been a front page story.

Politics is not so straightforward. Before I joined the National Front, in September 1976, I went to a NF meeting in Worthing. The speaker expounded views on coloured immigration, the economy, defence and home affairs that I had always held but never before found a home for. At the meeting I was sold on the National Front. In the bar afterwards I sat listening to other NF members chatting, it wasn't long before the words Jew and Holocaust were mentioned. Hearing the way they were spoken gave me reservations.

I was brought up on diet of sympathy for the Jews, a people that were never to be mentioned in an unfavourable light, a people who had suffered enough and must now be left in peace.

UNRAVEL THE BANDAGES

I joined the National Front despite those reservations over that bar-talk and gradually over a period of years began to unravel the bandages that, through years of media brainwashing, had cocooned me and prevented me from analysing many issues of the day at face value.

The vast majority of British people sub-consciously believe in the policies of the National Front. It is our job to bring them to our party, to become, not only voters for us, but actually part of us. It will be a big step for many people who have been spoon-fed anti-NF propaganda for the last twenty years, but they will come, and it is our job to make that transition as easy as possible for them.

It is not the job of a political party to search for truth in history, that is a job for the historians. It is the job of the National Front to stand up for Britain and campaign for policies that look after the welfare of the British people.

The truth will always come out in the end, just be patient and let the historians do their work.

Working Hard in Derby

THE LABOUR MP for Derby South, Margaret Beckett, and the Tory MP for Derby North, Greg Knight, were united in their response at the news that the National Front were setting up a local unit in Derby.

"I'm appalled they have re-appeared", Margaret Beckett told the local newspapers. "We have to warn off the people of Derby against them".

Surprised by all the fuss, the local NF organiser told the press "We have been working hard in Derby over the past few weeks and have established a group. It's a small group but it will be working towards putting up candidates in local elections".

Four new Derby NF members travelled to London on Saturday 5th August to support the Party's demonstration against the IRA.

The Battle for Stamford Bridge

DURING THE SUMMER months the National Front has been attempting to negotiate with police over our sales pitch at Stamford Bridge, the home of Chelsea F.C.

For years the pitch was successfully used by the NF, where up to 500 papers were sold on a Saturday afternoon. In November 1986 the Police, out of the blue, arrested all the papersellers on charges of obstruction. When a complaint was made about the arrests, Chief Inspector Rosser, then in charge of operations, said he was surprised by the arrests and that the NF were quite free to sell their papers at the ground.

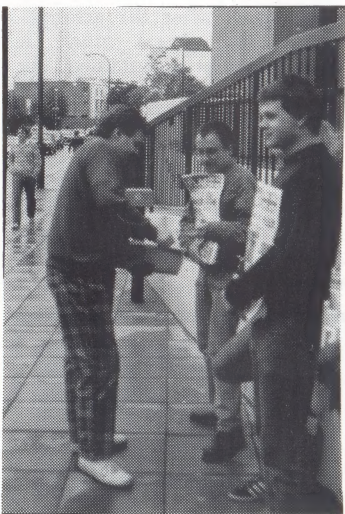

In May of this year the National Front decided that sales would start up again at Stamford Bridge and wrote to Fulham Police requesting a meeting to discuss the matter. The answer from Chief Inspector M.K.

Schuck was that "there is nothing to be achieved by meeting you".

The NF wrote again asking if there had been a change of policy from that expressed by Chief Inspector Rosser in 1986. Chief Inspector Schuck replied "Such a policy does not exist, I do not feel that the consequences of attempting to implement it would necessarily be acceptable locally".

On August 5th the NF wrote asking to be stated the exact law with regard to the selling of papers at Stamford Bridge. In an hysterical letter Schuck said the National Front papersellers "... cannot be tolerated in the present difficult state in which football finds itself ..." and that "Our powers ... will be used vigorously and you should seriously consider the effect of your actions".

The day the letter was received a complaint was made by the National Front to the Police Complaints Authority. Our readers will be kept up to date with the progress of our complaint.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Sunday 24th September 1989 - Birmingham

THE NATIONAL Front's Annual Conference will be held in Birmingham this year on Sunday 24th September commencing at 11.00am. All those attending must go to Birmingham New Street Station (by the taxi ranks) where re-direction to the venue will be in operation from 9.00am to 11am.

ANNUAL REPORTS

The conference will debate policy and constitutional resolutions as well as being given full annual reports from all National Front Departments.

For the first time for a number of years awards will be given, including The FLAG Sales Cup, the Branch Liaison Cup and a special award to the individual who has done most to promote the National Front during 1989.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

National Front videos will be shown during the lunch break and the afternoon session will include speeches from visitors from Nationalist parties on the continent as well as the NF Chairman's address to Conference.

Elections to the National Directorate will take place and book stalls will be in operation selling all National Front merchandise. Only paid-up members for 1989 will be allowed into the meeting. All members should bring their 1989 membership card to the meeting.

An Honour

THE "England" cricket team are at present competing with the Australians for the Ashes. Since Australia are generally regarded as the second worst team in international cricket, this effectively means that the contest is for the ashes of the wooden spoon, which "England" seem destined to collect with great ease.

For when the "England" team are batting, the scoreboard operators are said to be suffering severe twinges of conscience at being paid good money for doing so little work apart, that is, from recording the fall of wickets. Indeed, if it were not for the expatriate S.Africans grafted onto the side, their presence would scarcely be required at all. They have no cause to feel that way. They should regard it as a rest period to compensate for the positive frenzy of activity required of them when "England" bowl.

And now the sorry plight of English cricket has deteriorated into hilarious farce since the Northamptonshire pace bowler Greg Thomas has declined an invitation to play for "England" on the grounds that he has accepted an invitation to tour S.Africa with the wicked "rebels". By agreeing to be associated with people so insufficiently multiracial and decadent as the evil S.Africans, he has effectively cast himself into the outer darkness along with everyone else with a shred of decency.

His defection has caused Peter Deeley of the Establishment Daily Telegraph to fume menacingly; "The England authorities will not quickly forget the way he has behaved ... when offered the honour of playing for his country".

Ah yes. Some country!

Some honour!

For Greg Thomas may well feel that, as a real Englishman, the honour of being regarded as second reserve to the likes of such sooty persons as the oddly named Devon Malcom and Philip de Freitas is not one that he is likely to cherish. Since, moreover, he is 29 years of age and faces an MCC-imposed 6 year ban from international cricket, this means that he would be an elderly 35 before the snivelling toadies of the MCC considered him to be sufficiently purged of taint to be allowed to play for his country again.

By which time, of course, there will be a new monstrous regiment of blacks to supersede him for selection to the "England" team.

Whatever Greg Thomas's motives for declining the MCC's kind invitation, I applaud them, as I do anything that results in the plummy, mealy-mouthed, degenerates of the MCC having their toffee noses rubbed in the dirt.

For then, as an Englishman, I may hope that perhaps just a little of the real England has survived the attentions of the odious ratpack who have made the name of England stink in the nostrils of all decent men.

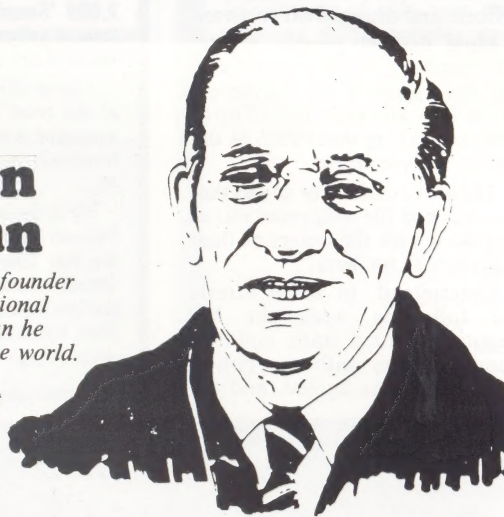

Strange...

FOR many years now we have become accustomed to stories of pressure being exerted on the Government of South Africa by the "international business community" who were dissatisfied at that Government's apparent unwillingness to connive in the destruction of the White race there in the interests of big business.

That such pressure has been effective is undeniable. The

The Ted Budden Column

Ted Budden was a founder member of the National Front. In his column he gives his view of the world. His comments and observations do not necessarily reflect National Front policy.

S.African Government has made concessions which, naturally, have fuelled demands for yet more concession; resulting in still more pressure on a country that is apparently floundering in a sea of indecision.

One might be forgiven for concluding that no concession will ever satisfy the "international business community" save the ultimate one; the surrendering of all power of decision making to international big business in order that the economies of all countries might be the more effectively plundered.

One very large component of the "international business community" is undoubtedly Lonrho which has fingers in virtually every African pie and is about as international as it is possible to get. Lonrho's Chief Executive is the ubiquitous "Tiny" Rowland (who is white, sort of) and its Chairman is Lord Carrington (who is also white, well sort of) - he it was, you will recall, who boasted of having conned the White Rhodesians into accepting black domination and all the ills that go with it.

Well Lonrho was involved in a little African drama just the other day. The other actor in this drama was Oliver Tambo, leader of the terrorist African National Congress which specialises in murdering White people in S.Africa.

Mr Tambo, who is resident in Lusaka, capital of Zambia, suffered a stroke. Most decent people would have said this was a stroke of luck but not, apparently, the boys from Lonrho.

Like any African leader with a grain of sense, Mr Tambo resolutely refused to undergo medical treatment in the sort of country he wants S.Africa to become. In order that he should not be inconvenienced, he was immediately flown to London for treatment - in a private jet belonging to Lonrho.

Still Around?

MIKE Gating, the captain of the English "rebel" tour of S.Africa has defending his decision on the grounds that it is a cricketer's right to earn his living wherever he can.

Well yes, of course. But is that really the point?

Precisely what are they supposed to be rebelling against except cant, hypocrisy, double-dealing, and institutionalised cowardice? Why on earth should he even agree to be cross-examined as to his motives when, as a free-born Englishman, he has no need of justifying himself to anyone?

Isn't it strange how almost everyone has come to accept the power of the media as an inevitable fact of life? The two black cricketers who had agreed to join the tour were accused by the media of "betraying the black community", whatever that is. They then hastily withdrew with profuse expressions of regret and contrition. Mike Gating, accused of betraying English cricket, merely offered lame denials instead of telling his persecutors that they were betrayers of the White race, as they undoubtedly are.

The BBC, which for years has been fraudulently using public funds to finance an unremitting campaign against S.Africa, will of course, avidly report the antics of the "Anti-Apartheid protesters" who have impudently announced that they intend to persecute the "rebels" and disrupt matches in which they appear.

There was a time, and not so long ago, when these freaks and perverts would have needed a police escort to get into the ground and an army escort to get out again. But now, so bludgeoned are they by the media into craven acquiescence, that the feeble

British now feel like heroes if they offer even the smallest bleat of protest against those who have systematically dishonoured their country.

Whatever became of the British? There must still be some around but, apart from those in the National Front, where are they now?

Final Straw

THAT S.African President P.W.Botha should be unceremoniously dumped by the ruling National Party should have come as no surprise to anyone. He was crude and clumsy and unloved and despite the welter of rancour and recrimination against his treacherous colleagues he was, in fact, the engineer of his own downfall. By setting in train the process of so-called political reform he ensured that the "liberals" in his party would gain the ascendancy and plot his downfall.

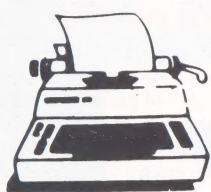

He will not be missed by his enemies. It is believed he had no friends. The BBC, commenting on his fall from power, damned him and all his works - well most of them. However, they generously conceded, he was not all bad. He had, after all, responded to international pressure and repealed the laws against sexual relations across racial lines - this, of course, accompanied by a shot of a worthless white slag folded in the loving embrace of a black buck.

Is that then to be P.W.Botha's epitaph; that he sponsored race-mixing, the ultimate obscenity?

Amid all the bitterness, is this not the unkindest cut of all?

Well, actually, no. Receiving even the heavily qualified approval of the BBC is worse. No man deserves that.

LETTERS

Over-Populated

A month or two ago, you kindly sent me, at my request, two copies of The FLAG which I have since read with much interest.

What greatly disturbs me about this country at present is the ever increasing number of Asians now living here and, in many cases, occupying council accommodation while White indigenous families are relegated to bed & breakfast hotels, often for years.

I am wondering, therefore, whether you could in your paper highlight this iniquity and even extend your condemnation to articles in the Mail, Sun, and News of the World, while never ceasing your pressure for the return, to their countries of origin, of people from the Third World.

If this was possible, the sad housing shortage in the South would be much alleviated and, hopefully, the present scale of building reduced.

This little country is over-populated by at least ten million, which is not widely recognised, and you could do well, also, to bring this fact to the attention of your readers.

God help us if Hong Kong Chinese are allowed entry.

Stella Barnes,
Cambridge.

Alienates

As an employee of a firm who recently conducted a survey on behalf of a national newspaper with regard to selling techniques, I thought that you might be interested in the following:

Horrible pictures do not induce people to purchase papers, quite the opposite.

A clear headlined front page attracts more sales than those where the headline is incorporated within the text or under a picture.

The public are more likely to buy a paper where the lead reports start on the front page rather than one where they are referred to an inside page.

This is not meant as a criticism of the contents of your paper, of which I am in broad agreement, but just points of interest with regard to selling techniques.

Middlesex.

CNP Sells Out!

Dr. James Whetter, the Chairman of the Cornish National Party (CNP), has seriously undermined his party's credibility by stating that "... there should be a guarantee for all Chinese who wish to leave Hong Kong to have the right of entry to Britain and other parts of the EEC in 1997."

This odious statement was made in response to an excellent letter published in the Sunday Times by R. Harny of pensilva, who pointed out that many people had moved to Cornwall to get away from the multi-racial nightmare of Britain's inner cities. This was condemned as 'racist' by the CNP.

In a letter to the Western Morning News, which the paper felt unable to publish for some reason, I drew attention to the fact that some Celtic nationalists, while being hostile to English newcomers in their areas were quite happy with coloured immigrants from overseas. This observation was confirmed by James Whetter's subsequent claim that those who had settled in Cornwall 'fitted in well', which he did not feel was true of people 'of English extraction'.

The stance adopted by the CNP is a disgraceful betrayal of the Cornish people and their heritage. True nationalists who have given their support to the CNP in the past should dissociate themselves from this turncoat party. All the native inhabitants of the British Isles, and their descendants in the White Commonwealth & South Africa, have a common cause in defending our Island home from a massive invasion of Third World migrants.

In the National Front, all Britons - be they Scots, Welsh, Cornish, Irish or English - have a party that will protect their racial interests. The time to defend this common cause is now, in the future it might be too late ...

MUSIC REVIEW With Bob Nash

THE NATIONAL FRONT has sought to rally the support of the British people by a number of means, including stressing the importance of the various aspects and wealth of British culture, ideas people can identify with.

Music is one of the most direct ways of expressing this cultural identity, as it appeals to people's basic emotions and instincts. However, we must be careful that when we use music as a means of recruitment to our ranks that we don't simply advertise one form or fashion in contemporary music, at the expense of others; for if we do this we only attract one group of people to the NF while at the same time alienating others whose tastes are different.

This has occurred in the party's history. In the 1970's to 1980's with the formation and promotion of Rock Against Communism (R.A.C.). Although R.A.C. was very successful in • British composer, Ralph Vaughan-Williams, as a young man and Michelle and Gigi from American Heavy Metal band Phantom Blue. Music against Communism must span all forms of music.

Broad Music Front

recruiting large numbers of young people to the ranks of the YNF it also alienated many middle-aged and older people who didn't like Rock music but preferred classical or other forms of traditional music.

Of course there's room within the ranks of the NF for appreciation of all kinds of music, be it traditional folk dance, classical or contemporary pop or rock music, providing that music is created by white musicians for a white audience, and contains no foreign anti-British, or multi-racial influences within it.

This is the central theme that music articles by myself and others in the Flag and Vanguard are basically driving at, championing and drawing attention to those forms of traditional and popular music which are played by White musicians for a White audience, we are able to create the idea of unifying White music, a truly British music Front, a Music Against Communism.

With the rise of blatantly anti-White, Black racistist pop groups within the last five years, and the recent establishment of a number of Black, Asian and Greek radio stations, it is important for the NF to champion White music in all its forms, as another significant way of identifying and attracting White British men and women to support cause.

Let's make music against Communism a reality!

CAN YOU GUESS WHO?

WHO OWES the council £10,000 in rent?

Who was given a suspended jail sentence for 'perverting the course of justice'?

Who was criticised in a petition signed by 300 local residents over her running of her youth association?

Who buried the youth association accounts in her mother's grave when the Fraud Squad wanted to inspect them?

Yes, you've guessed it. It's Dolly Kiffin, darling of the Left and apologist for the savages who hacked Keith Blakelock to death during the Broadwater Farm riot.

• The Good News: Dolly now spends most of her time in Jamaica.

• British Mill workers face the dole queue as cheap Indian textiles flood into our country.

Red Carpet Treatment For Indian Exporters

BRITAIN'S TEXTILE industry has been all but destroyed over the last 30 years because of low-grade cheap cotton fabrics being imported from India.

It has been the former mill towns of Lancashire that have been hardest hit with spinners and weavers losing their jobs as the mills closed.

Isn't sick then that Manchester's Chamber of Commerce will lay on a red carpet welcome to a group of India textile exporters so they can boost their sales in Britain.

The National Front would ban all foreign textile imports and would have put the Indian businessmen on the first plane back to India as soon as they had set foot on the tarmac at Manchester Airport.

Now The French Want To Bury Our Dead!

LYONNAISE DES Eaux, the French company which has been buying up British water companies has now bought in to Britain's biggest funeral business.

Using the name, Pompes Funebres, the French firm has bought a 20% share of Hodgson Kenyon, who bury up to 200 people a day.

When is this foreign takeover of our country going stop? From foreigners in our country to foreign goods in our shops. From foreign ownership of our industry to foreign rule from Brussels.

British people are losing control over their own affairs and no one, apart from the National Front, is prepared to do a thing about it.

British Bee Buzzes Back!

THE NATIVE British bee, thought to have been wiped out in the Isle of Wight disease epidemic of 1906, is still alive and buzzing in Britain.

Descendants from those British bees, first discovered in excavations of AD 900 Viking York have been found in Scotland and the Yorkshire Moors.

Unlike the imported Italian bee, now common in Britain, our native bee is sweet-tempered, hard-working and produces a better quality of honey.

GONE FISHING

IT SEEMS unbelievable that the typical English sport of fishing has its equivalent of the football hooligan and the lager lout, The Noddy.

The Noddy has no regard or respect for the sport. He crashes through the countryside and tramples across fields. When it comes to actually fishing, what fish he does manage to catch are handled roughly and kept in inadequate keep-nets for far too long.

• John Hill, most definitely not a Noddy, with a brace of nice tench from a Birmingham Stillwater.

WITH JOHN HILL

You can see even when The Noddy has gone home where he has been fishing. Floats, lines and hooks decorate the nearest tree while pop bottles, beer cans, sandwich wrappers etc adorn the bank.

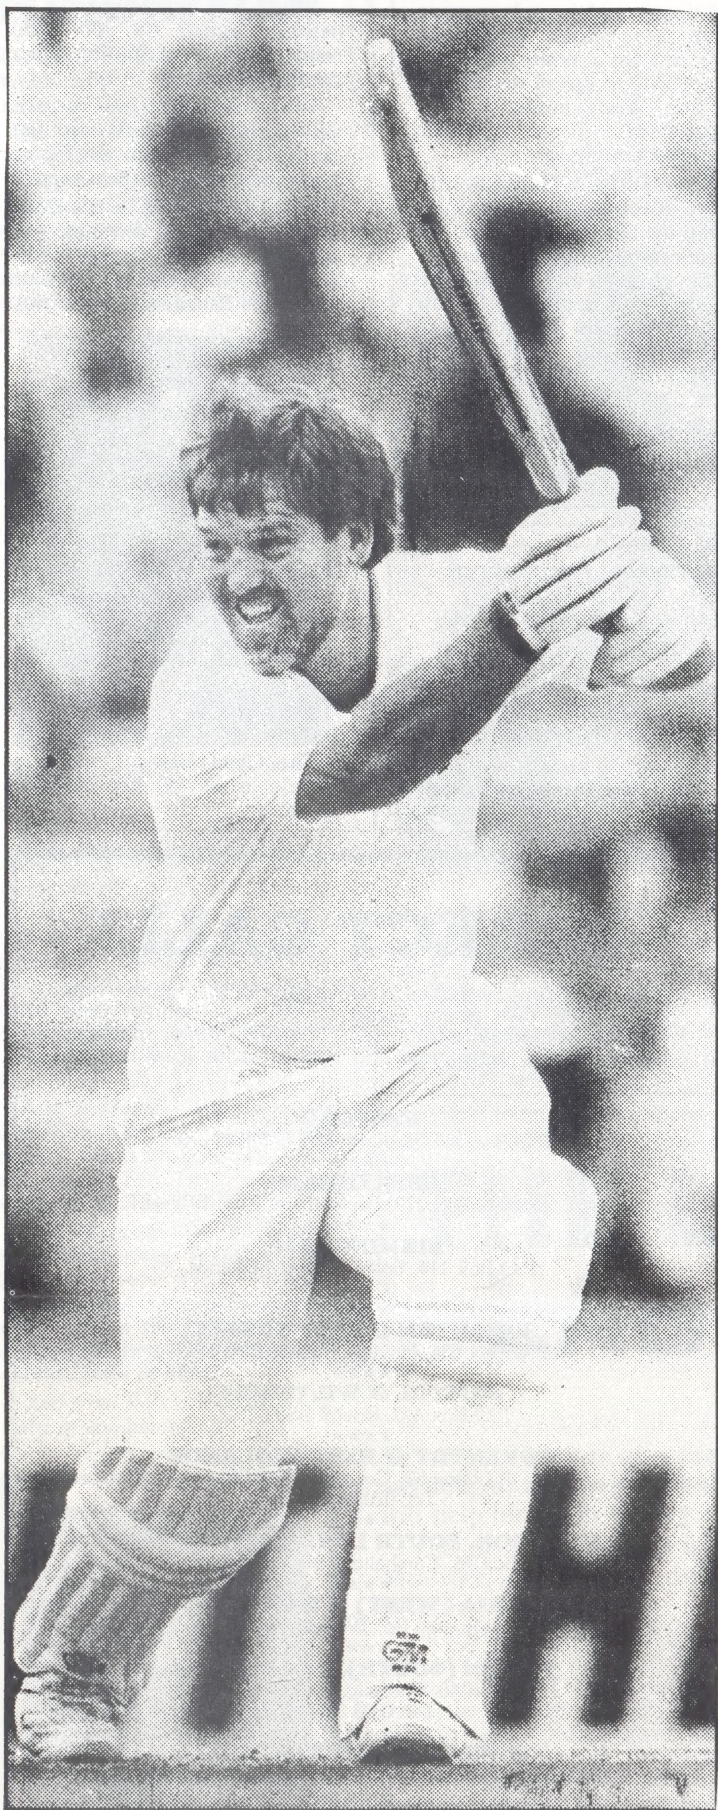

As the call by the lunatic fringe of some animal rights groups grows for the banning of fishing, The Noddy is giving them good reason. Every angler, young and old, should remember these basic principles.

Respect the countryside as if it were your own garden. Handle your catch with the utmost care, putting the fish back undamaged, and take your litter home with you.

If you see The Noddy in action tell him what damage he is doing to the sport.

Finally best of luck to World Match Fishing champions, England, who bid for a hat-trick of World Championship wins in Bulgaria this month.

FLAG SPORT

• Mike Gatting: He should never have been sacked as England captain.

• Dexter: Selecting West Indian bowlers for England!

SAVING THE STOMACHS OF OUR CRICKETERS

BISHWANATH DUTT, the President of the Board of Control for Cricket in India has called for England's cricket authorities to severely punish the 18 players touring South Africa.

He says it time for India to make a firm stand against South African collaborators.

England cricketers will no doubt be hoping that this means India will ban any future tours by England, saving our players from putting up with stone-throwing spectators, bad umpiring, the dysentery, the dirt, the flies etc... etc... etc...

GATTING'S BACK IN BUSINESS!

IT'S ALMOST TOO good to be true! Mike Gatting, the only recent England cricket captain with any guts, is going to lead a REAL England team on a tour of South Africa.

The whole media circus is up in arms and the ageing anti-apartheid campaigners are digging out their 1970 Stop the Tour badges.

The Chairman of the Selectors, Ted Dexter has spoken of the treachery of the touring team who are now absurdly banned from playing officially for England for five years, a bit rich coming from a man who has regularly gone to South Africa as a guest of the South African Cricket Union.

The Fleet Street hacks, waging their war against the England team have already made asses of themselves. On Wednesday 2nd August, The Guardian carried an article which described John Emburey as 'increasingly ineffectual' and Mike Gatting as 'embittered'. The very next day they were forced to report that Emburey had taken 3 wickets for 11 runs and Gatting scored 132 not out as Middlesex beat Sussex in the Nat West Trophy.

Some of the touring team spoke openly of their dissatisfaction with David Gower as captain - something which The FLAG has reported on a number of occasions. One player said "The whole atmosphere in the England dressing room was one of them and us, and some players seemed to know that however they played they would be turning up next time to collect their cheque".

Another tourer said that young bowlers need help and constant reassurance, this didn't happen in the England team at present. "Gower leaves you to do your own thing, you get the feeling that you are just there to make up the numbers. Mike Gatting made you feel part of the set-up and was always there to offer advice".

Dexter's response to the tour was predictable. He immediately selected a West Indian, Gladstone Small, to play in the next test against Australia and when he was unfit he picked another West Indian, Devor. Malcolm.

The shambles in English cricket could have been avoided. Mike Gatting should never have been sacked as England captain and he should have been allowed to build on the Esprit de Corps which he managed to engender on the Pakistani tour. He should then have been allowed to captain a full and official tour of South Africa.

English cricket at present is like the British Government - devoid of principles and consequently lurches from one crisis to the next.

THE NATIONAL FRONT

A political party that stands up for Britain and the British people.

The National Front was formed on 7th February 1967 and since that day has campaigned continuously to defend the rights of the British people. Despite many ups and downs in its fortunes and non-stop attacks from our opponents, the National Front today still stands firm behind those beliefs, contesting, Euro-Elections, Parliamentary Elections and Council Elections whenever it can.

DEMOCRACY & INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM

The National Front is committed to the preservation and enhancement of Parliamentary democracy. We are committed to the defence of traditional British rights of freedom of speech and opinion for our opponents as well as ourselves. The National Front would enshrine rights of free speech and free expression of opinion in a Bill of Rights.

RACE, NATIONALITY & CITIZENSHIP

The National Front believes in a positive creed of love of Nation and Race, not of negative hatred of coloured immigrants as individuals. We are committed to the ending of all non-White immigration and to the phased, humane and financially-assisted repatriation of all non-Whites resident on our national territory.

NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY

The National Front is committed to Britain becoming a fully sovereign nation as far as possible independent externally of other nations and internally of sectional interests.

NORTHERN IRELAND

Northern Ireland is, and must always remain an integral part of the British Nation. Those people currently resident in Northern Ireland who refuse to renounce allegiance to an independent Irish state and therefore do not consider themselves British will lose their British Citizenship and, as a result, their automatic right to live on British soil, vote in British elections and enjoy British social services. This would enable all IRA activists and supporters to be removed permanently from the UK.

DEFENCE

The National Front is resolved that Britain must possess an independent nuclear deterrent, one entirely produced, maintained and controlled from within Britain. Our conventional armed forces must be expanded and modernised. All foreign bases would be removed from British soil.

OWNERSHIP OF INDUSTRY

The National Front believes in the widespread private ownership of industry commerce and agriculture. We envisage an economy comprised of small and medium-sized businesses and farms owned by individuals and partnerships; enterprises that are necessarily large which are owned and controlled by employee shareholders, and producers' co-operatives in which the profits would be distributed among the employees. Nationalised industries would exist in those areas of the economy in which the necessary monopoly position, level of fixed costs or importance to national security or the economy, made public ownership necessary or desirable.

CRIME & POLICING

We recognise that crime can only be contained by providing adequate deterrents, rather than searching for alleged 'social causes'. Therefore we would restore capital punishment for the categories of murder, treason, large-scale drug trafficking and involvement in terrorist offences.

HEALTH & WELFARE

The National Front recognises that the State has an obligation to ensure that those of its nationals who cannot be expected to support themselves should enjoy a standard of living that is adequate to cover their reasonable material and social needs. We believe that the National Health Service must be maintained at whatever level is necessary to ensure the health and well-being of the Nation.

EDUCATION

The National Front believes that there must be a national common core curriculum in primary education to ensure that the minimum standards of literacy and numeracy are achieved by all children. Secondary education must place a strong emphasis on technology and craftsmanship.

THE ENVIRONMENT

The defence of the environment is central to the National Front's programme for National and Racial survival. We seek an economy and a way of life which will respect and sustain the environment rather than disregarding and exploiting it.

If you agree with National Front thinking on these issues of the day then join our Party and take your place alongside other Britons who have joined our crusade to win back our country!

Bloody Cheek!

MR MHAPA, the Foreign Minister of Tanzania, has threatened that the Commonwealth Games will be boycotted by Black African countries... if Britain attends.

What a bloody cheek, "if Britain attends" - without Britain there would never have been a Commonwealth and some countries would be more savage than they are today.

However if Mr Maphe is right then at last we are coming to a sensible conclusion. In one case all the Black African countries will boycott the games leaving Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the Home Countries. In the other Britain will withdraw making the games meaningless.

Now why not apply the same ideas to the whole Commonwealth - either make it White or scrap it - the vast majority of British people would welcome an end to this expensive fiasco.

HARRY'S HAD ENOUGH

HARRY CARPENTENER, one of Britain's best known sports commentators retires next year with little regret because of what he sees as the downward spiral of standards and sportsmanship in Britain.

From his first boxing commentary in 1949, Harry Carpenter has covered almost all major sporting events from Wimbledon tennis championships to the Open Golf Tournaments.

He believes sport has been spoiled by money, "Sport isn't about cash", he said, "it's about dignity, fair play and being what we used to mean by a sportsman. Money will ruin sport".

Harry Carpenter isn't just retiring, he is moving out of Britain to live in France making no bones about the reason he is going. "The social scene has changed. There has been a deterioration in life over the last few decades. People are ruder, meaner, more aggressive and harder. There is an atmosphere about Britain that didn't exist when I was younger. What we have today is a 'Me First' society."

His remarks ring true, and while nobody would blame Harry Carpenter for leaving Britain at the age of 64, other Britons must stay and strive for change.

Patriotism is what is lacking in Britain today. In our soulless multi-racial melting pot, people

FOLLOW JOHN BAKER

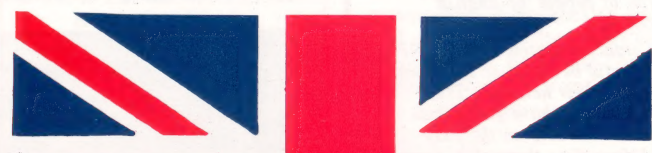

THE TALK of the men in the know is about John Baker. Who the hell is John Baker you may ask. He was a small West Country trainer last year and this year, if the gossip is right, he will be following in the footsteps of the all-conquering Martin Pipe.

During August John Baker had just 4 runners, 3 of them won and the other was second. The word is, that by means of massive investment and following the Pipe business set-up, John Baker will be taking National Hunt racing by storm this year. Follow him during September and we will see how he gets on.

have no choice but to put themselves first. In a society where people and country are one, where quality of life is put before money, where your future is bound to the future of the country, everyone works together and for each other.

It's that sort of society that the National Front believes in, it's a society that people like Harry Carpenter will be happy to come home to.
